Contractor appointed!

Plans for the builds of the two new primary schools in Welshpool has taken a major step forward with the appointment of Dawnus Construction as project contractors. Dawnus are a Welsh construction company and have extensive experience in building primary schools across Wales.

There will be events held soon where schools and communities can meet the contractors, you will be notified when these events are once they have been arranged. The design process is yet to start however school staff, governors, pupils and parents and the wider community will be able to see the designs and give feedback.

You can find more information about Dawnus and see the projects they have been involved in on their website <http://www.dawnus.co.uk/>

Staff appointments

The process of appointing the staff to the new schools is still on going, the appointments will be made soon and these will be communicated to you as soon as possible.
