Regrets that the report does not deal with the Sandford Principle as set out in the Environment Act 1995. [Environment Act 1995]

2. Add as new point at end of motion:

Believes that any change in the legislation governing National Parks should be taken through the Assembly as primary legislation.”

and to ask your member to help to:

- defend the proper protection and management of, and resources for, the National Parks and AONBs;
- ensure that conservation and quiet enjoyment of the special qualities of the designated areas remain central to their purposes;
- ensure that the Sandford principle is retained to secure their protection from inappropriate development;
- hold a full public consultation before making any changes to the purposes of National Parks or AONBs
